The Story

Big House Burgers & Bottlecap Bar is the newest member of the Steamboat Restaurant Group (SRG) family. What is SRG? It's a family of restaurants created by a guy known only as Rex—yes, there really is a Rex.

Being a member of this family comes with great responsibility and expectations. Rex insists that all his restaurants are not just places to get great homemade food, but they're fun places to hang out too.

At all the SRG restaurants, fresh, locally grown and raised products are preferred and home-made sauces, soups and dressings are the norm. Freezers are for ice cream.

At the Big House we think it's criminal to strive for anything less.
